"Perhaps you have never thought what your country means; it is all that surrounds you, all that has brought you up and fed you, all that you have loved. This country that you see, these houses, these trees, those girls who go along there laughing,—this is your country! The laws which protect you, the bread which pays for your work, the words which you interchange with others, the joy and grief which come to you from the men and things among which you live,—this is your country! The little room where you used to see your mother, the remembrances she has left you, the earth where she rests,—this is your country! You see it, you breathe everywhere! Think to yourself, of your rights and duties, your affections and your wants, your past and your present blessings; write them all under a single name,—and that name will be your country! It is our home in large; it is that part of the world where God has placed our body and our soul."

The musical score is written for piano and features six systems of music. The key signature is B-flat major (two flats) and the time signature is 2/4. The score includes various musical notations such as treble and bass staves, dynamic markings (ff, f, B.D.), articulation marks (accents), and repeat signs with first and second endings. The first system begins with a forte (ff) dynamic. The second system continues the melody. The third system includes a B.D. (Basso Continuo) marking. The fourth system features a first ending and a second ending, with a forte (ff) dynamic. The fifth system continues the melody. The sixth system concludes the piece with a first ending and a second ending, ending with a key signature change to B-flat major.

The musical score is written for piano and voice. It features a key signature of two flats (B-flat and E-flat) and a common time signature. The piano accompaniment is in the left hand, and the vocal melody is in the right hand. The score is divided into six systems, each with a line of lyrics. The first system includes the word 'TRIO' above the staff. The music consists of chords and single notes, with some measures containing rests. The final measure of the last system ends with a double bar line.
